NEVERTHELESS-MAGISTRATE BRANN DISAGREES WITH MR. ROOSEVELT.

Edward Denechaud, a restaurant keeper of No 51 Columbus-ave., was arraigned before Magistrate Brann in the Yorkville Court late yesterday afternoon, charged with illegally selling a drink of whis to Patrolman Gannon, of the West Sixty-eighthst. station, last Sunday morning, and in the course of the examination said that he did so under express permission of Commissioner Roosevelt and Chief Conlin. After Denechaud had told his story, Magistrate Brann said that he did not doubt word, but that the judiciary were judges of the law, and not the Commissioners. After the officer described how he had bought the whis key with a meal, which consisted of a cup of coffee and a piece of pic. Elias G. Levy, counsel for Denechaud, asked for a dismissal, as there was no intent to violate the law, and that the restaurant keeper sold the liquor by permission of those in authority. "I will hear this case in full, then," remarked Magistrate Brann, "as it is certainly interesting.

Denechaud said that about four weeks ago an fficer called on him and warned him not to sell liquor on Sundays or after hours. He then called on Acting Captain Chapman and the latter told him that his restaurant license was invalid. He did not sell any liquor the following Sunday, but the next morning he called on Commissioner Roosevelt. He stated the case to him, and when the latter heard his story he said that he never gave orders to the police to interfere with restaurant keepers. According to Denechaud, Commissioner Roosevelt called an officer and sent him downstairs to Chief Conlin, and after the latter heard Denechaud's story he assured him that he would not be interfered with in then issued a telephone order to Acting Captain Chapman to appear before him the following day at 11 o'clock.

On the afternoon of that day an officer called on Denechaud and told him that the acting captain wanted to see him at the station.

"So you saw Rooseveit, did you?" said Chapman.

"Yes," replied Denechaud.

"You saw Conlin, too," continued Chapman. "Well, Mr. Rooseveit only gave you permission to sell liquor with a full meal," the acting captain is alleged to have replied. "I want you to understand," Chapman is alleged to have said on this occasion, "that I am captain of this precinct."

Denechaud told Magistrate Brann that Chapman then assured him that if there was any change in the then existing policy he would inform him. He continued to serve liquor with meals ordered by ans guests until arrested last Sunday morning.

When taken to the station he said the sergeant on duty woke up the captain, and the latter came downstairs and told him that he only had permission to sell liquor with full meals.

"I called on Commissioner Roosevelt this morning," said Denechaud, "and told him of my arrest. He said: 'I don't see why the captain did such a thing. I have my hands full with the saloons now, without bothering with restaurants.'".

"If the Commissioners made such a ruling as you say," said Magistrate Brann, "I think they were wrong. Nevertheless, I will adjourn the case until October 31, and in the mean time consult with my colleagues. I think, however, that a restaurant-keeper has no more right to sell liquor in prohibited hours than has a saloonkeeper."

FLAGS GIVEN TO THE CHILDREN.

RECEPTION OF THE NEW-YORK JUVENILE ASY-LUM-INTERESTING EXERCISES.

The semi-annual reception of the New-York Juvenile Asylum, given by the Board of Directors, was held yesterday afternoon at the asylum, e-hundred-and-seventy-sixth-st, and Tenth-ave Luncheon was served in the large dining hall soon after 1 o'clock, and was followed by interesting exercises, held in the chapel, in which the 1,000 in mates of the asylum, occupying the body of the house, participated heartily. Upon the platform were the directors of the institution and a number of invited guests, among whom were a large delega-tion of the Daughters of the Revolution.

A notable part of the programme was the presentation of two handsome silk flags, bearing the Stars and Stripes, to the children by Postmaster Dayton, on behalf of the Daughters of the Revolution, and the reply of the children, which consisted of a brief address by one of their number, and an appropriate musical selection, in which they all joined, at the same time waving a thousand little flags above their heads. Theron G. thanked the givers of the flags on behalf of the children. It was expected that Mayor Strong would be present to address the children, but J. Seaver Page brought word that the Mayor had been unavoidably detained, and he was called upon to speak

The blood veins in the Coroner's face bulged out to their fullest, and he bristled with rage.

"I was up to Justice Ruesch's court," continued the woman. "That is at Second-ave, and First-st. They told me you were the very man to take my case. I know you are a good and kind man.
"Madam, dey tel you lies—lies, I say!" shouted the Coroner. "I haven't nothing to do mit your bird. I can't do anyding. Please leaf me aone."
The woman went away sorrowfully, and some one suggested that she see the District-Attorney. Assistant District-Attorney. Otiver gravely heard all her story and told her he did not know how she could get redress.

The woman said that she was Mrs. Elizabeth T. Berkland, of No. 2246 Third-ave. She had, unknown to her husband, bought the parrot at No. 166 Houston-st. for $6. She was told it would talk. She took it home and it died. She feared to tell her husband of the had speculation she had made and wanted her money back. She went to the store, she said, and they put her out. Then she sought the aid of the authorities.

Deputy United States Marshals Stafford and Hurley after having been discharged on a writ of habeas corpus by Judge Beach, and was arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields in extradition proceedings on application of the British Consul, Percy Sanderson. He also, to the amusement of the Court, announced that Krahn had actually signed over to him 109 shares of stock of the Canadian Pacific Rahiroad found upon him at the time of his arrest and supposed to be the proceeds of the alleged theft, to seh and deduct his fees from the proceeds. Commissioner Shields issued an order authorizing the police officials to turn over the certificates of stock to the United States Marshal on motion of Charles Fox, counsel to the British Consul, that the certificates were part of the stolen property referred to in the affidavit upon which the warrant of arrest had been issued.

Krahn then told the Commissioner that he wished Mr. Evans to represent him, and Mr. Coiby dropped out of the case, after informing the Commissioner that he had already served an order on the police authorities at headquarters restraining them from delivering the stock to any one. THE REORGANIZED WHISKEY TRUST ITS CHIEF RENEFICIARY-A LOW STOCK ON HAND

COMPARED WITH LAST YEAR'S. The dead calm in Whiskey Trust matters which has followed the several settlements of conflicting interests around the American Spirits Manufacturing Company, including the Greenhut-Morris suits, has concealed beneath it some energetic and effective wire-pulling, the results of which became manifest yesterday in the bare announcement that general so-called "protective agreement" had een reached for the benefit of all manufacturers of spirits worth paying any attention to on the part of the combination. This agreement purports to be merely for the alleged protection of all manufacturers of spirits an in the United States consuming 400 or more bushes, of grain a day. It applies to "production and sales" in specific terms. The possibilities latent in such an "agreement" are fully understood by those who seek to control the output of spirits and regulate

Its sales.

The American Spirits Manufacturing Company—which is the reorganized Whiskey Trust—is the chief beneficiary under the agreement. It is understood that the company put in a heavy claim for control of the situation and that this was allowed. The precise output allowed it is 72 per cent of the total.

The present stock of spirits, according to Chicago reports, is 75 per cent less than last year at this time. There were 6.30,000 gallons in Chicago on July 1 last against 10,755.000 in July 1, 1894. Corn is at the lowest price on record. Prices are reported steady at $1.22, while there is a good demand. Receiver McNulta has formally turned over to the American Spirits Manufacturing Company eighteen distilleries of the old concern. The remaining properties, it is said, will soon be disposed of.

The complainant did not appear in court and Mr. Townsend was discharged. He denied that he had taken any notice of the women, and declared that his arrest was an outrage. The policeman who arrested him said that he had seen him do nothing wrong, and only made the arrest on the woman's complaint.

DELAYED MAILS FROM NEW-ENGLAND.

AN ANNOYANCE FOR WHICH THE NEW-YORK POSTOFFICE IS NOT RESPONSIBLE.

Postmaster Dayton has for some time received daily complaints of the late delivery of letters from Boston and other Eastern points, causing much inconvenience and embarrassment to merchants, manufacturers and banks. At the Postoffice it is said that these delays have in every case been due to the late arrival of the trains conveying the mails from the Eastern States by way of Providence, which are due at the Grand Central Station at 5:30 a. m., but which are habitually so late in arrival a. m. are from fifteen minutes to several hours behind time. On Welnesday they were not received until 132 p. m., and on Thursday they arrives at 7.35 a. m. As the carriers begin their first morning delivery at 7.45 o'clock, it is impossible properly to assort this mail in time for delivery on that trip, and it is necessarily delayed until the second, which begins at $1.11 o'clock. As a consequence, many business letters are not delivered until it is too late for them to receive proper attention on the day of receipt.

Willard, who is a powerful fellow, asked, "Do you take us for thieves"" refused to tell what they were doing in the neigh-borhood, and the detectives put them under arrest. Willard drew a revolver fully loaded and tried to shoot Clark, but the latter wrested the weapon away with him, and secured him with a pair of handcuffs. Butler took Brown into custody.

COTTON STEADIER AND STRONGER.

CHANGE-A LOWER NEILL ESTIMATE

The familiar bullish look returned to the cotton market yesterday. Quotations, after opening up Il to 14 points, almost without halting advanced here at 8.57 bid. In New-Orleans January closed at 8.47. Liverpool was stronger than expected. The market there, after opening 2-64d, down, railled, and closed 2-6id. above the previous day's close. Manchester spinners bought 10,000 bales at 1-32d. that Neill Brothers would shortly issue a circular estimating the crop under 6,500,000 bales, possibly 6.250,000. This rumor, while not confirmed, is generally credited, as Henry Neill, of New-Orleans, as thoroughly bullish in his views this year as he was bearish last year.

The strength of the big Southern spot market, New-Orleans, which was still more than 20 points above a parity with this market and far an export basis at present Liverpool quotations, continued to be a feature of the situation. It is still a tug of war between the domestic holder and still a ting of war between the domestic holder and the foreign spinner. Yesterday's developments showed that if there was any weakening it was on the side of the foreigner. Exports to the Continent horeased to 32,18 bales, and Great Britain took 13,271 bales. There was more activity and a firmer tone prevailing in Southern spot markets. New-Orleans sold 3,250 bales; Memphis, 1,330; Mobile, 500; Augusta, 913; Galveston, ecc. New-York, 507, at unchanged princes, except in the local market, which was 1-16 lower. Predictions of increased exports for next week and decrease 4 receipts were numerous.

Nicks at the thirty-one counted interior towns increased 54,000 bales during the week, where 60,000 bales nad been expected. The total interior stocks were considered a bearish feature, though being 314,434, against 266,750 last year. This interior accumulation is a little more than the buils like. Interior receipts were 202,360, where 220,600 had been predicted, against 272,451 last year. Port receipts year terday were 36,66, against 58,025 last year. The receipts at the chief ports, compared with last year and 1883 (when the crop was 7,500,000), were as follows:

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

TWO AGED DAMES IN COURT. THEY OWNED THE HOUSE, THEY SAID, AND THAT WAS ALL THEY WOULD SAY.

An unusual sight was witnessed in the Court of Sessions yesterday morning, when the clerk called to the bar Janet Weir and Margaret Archibald, charged with breaking a chain on the door of a house belonging to Joseph W. Vrooman. Both women were bent with age, their faces were wrinkled with the indelible marks of time's ravages, and their rusty black bonnets were of the kind that perhaps made feminine hearts glad in the fiftes. Judge Moore forgot his rheumatism and looked in-terested, and the reporters got a little hearer to the bar of justice.

terested, and the reporters got a little nearer to the bar of justice.

"Have you got a lawyer?" asked the Judge, "We own the house. We had a right to break the chain," said the aged dames, in a treble chorus, "But have you a lawyer?" again asked the Judge, "We owned the house, we owned the house," said both the prisoners, growing excited and gesticulating at nothing in particular; "why shouldn't we break the chain if we wanted to?" "Well," said Judge Moore, "if you won't tell me whether you have a lawyer or not I'll assign one to defend you."

The relicts entered a plea of not guilty, and tottered back to their seats, nodding and saying something to each other about "owning that house."

NASSAU ELECTRIC RAILROAD TAXES. The Nassau Electric Railroad Company yesterday paid over to Controller Palmer its period of time it has been operated, in accordance with the resolution of the Common Council in relation to the road's franchise. The stipulation was that when the road's gross earnings reached $20,000 a mile it should pay 1 per cent annually of its annual gross earnings. The company operates at pres ent 8.01 miles of road in the city and in the months of August and September the earnings were at the rate of $31,325 45 a mile a year. Upon this the road yesterday paid to the city $981 86. Secretary Cocheu, yesterday paid to the city $88 $8. Secretary Cocheu, of the road, in commenting upon the payment, said: This report is made on 9.01 miles as now constructed and operated within the old city limits. If our entire roads were constructed within the old city limits the mileage would be about twenty-three miles, upon which, on this basis, we would pay $14,409.70, which would be an income to the city of Brooklyn, on an investment at their usual rate of interest, of about $500,009.
